far in time they travel through worlds of strange and through history in bright blisters controlled by mind the mind that exulted over technology their skin was burned by light from the nuclear explosions heads too large and eyes too black to realize that's your son time will come from sky above historians in fatal mission search for the crucial release of war for the great day of wrath is coming and who shall be able to stand ? they see their past reading in books knowing that's their last chance to erase what they've seen in life to destroy frightful fate for us the bringers of war but saviour from destiny kill the father whose son will kill you erase the apocalyptic leaders
