

Morning Light, The "Virginia"

Visit "Virginia" on MotoLyrics.com

Oh, I once knew a girl from Virginia
She had eyes like the first day of May
And she talked like she never remembered
What to say-ay-ay, what to say-ay-ay

In the morning she left me her number
And she fled like a bird in the rain
So I sat on the carpet and wondered
What to say-ay-ay, what to say-ay-ay

We crept in the moonlight
She slept by the door
Oo-oo-oo Virginia, no more, no more
And akward I stumble
I've been there before
Oo-oo-oo Virginia, no more

So I changed out the taste
And I made my escape
Out the door on to our seperate ways
And I'll see you around if I do figure out
What to say-ay-ay, what to say-ay-ay

We crept in the moonlight
She slept by the door
Oo-oo-oo Virginia, no more, no more
And akward I stumble
I've been there before
Oo-oo-oo Virginia, no more

Visit Morning Light, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.