I went in the desert
I went searching for the truth
I stumbled across you
And I know you're not the truth

I went in the ocean
I went looking for some love
All I found is that I found
I haven't found enough

I stand alone now, I stand alone
But can you save me from myself?

You are my temptation
You are my temptation
To do what I knew is wrong

You are my temptation
You are my temptation
To do what I knew is wrong
What I knew is wrong was you

I stand alone now, I stand alone
Can you save me from myself? Oh, please

They've been killing children
And nobody seems to care
They've been laughing at my God
My God, I wouldn't dare

You are my temptation
You are my temptation
You are my temptation

You are my temptation
You are my temptation
You are my temptation
