She came home two hours after she said
Butterflies in me turned to fire instead
Please don't tell me what went wrong my love
Do you remember how it was when we first met

Kiss my lips before they go away
Let me kiss your lips when they're still mine
Please don't tell me what went wrong my love
Do you remember how it was when we first met

Your friends are worse liars than you
And there's no flowers bright enough till change my mind

I will walk alone and filled with pain
She has left a letter I won't read
I won't think of what went wrong my love
I'll only think of how it was when we first met
