open up my lips so that i can speak your praises
open up my lips so that i can speak your praises Hashem S'fatai Tiftach U'fi Yagid Te'hilatecha

When I look in your eyes I believe every time and all that i know will reflect in my life I was told long ago when I was just child there's a place you will go in the ground in the sky and the road goes on forever and every place leads back to start with every step were getting closer learning to fly

I want to get closer to you
I want to get closer to you
I want to get closer to you
I want to get closer to you

And the weight of the world starts bringing you down and you come up for air do your best not to drown when the worlds that I've known start sinking like stone there's a place i can go in the plan in that sun

and the road goes on forever and every path leads back to you with every step we're getting closer

I want to get closer to you
I want to get closer to you
I want to get closer to you
I want to get closer to you

I want to get closer to you
I want to get closer to you

I want to get closer to you
I want to get closer to you
