"Misplaced"

Under the blood sky armies are returning
The country I leave behind me is burning

I left my family at the border crossing
I don't when I'll be returning

Chorus:

I gotta run
I gotta hide
I gotta make it to the other side there's no place for the misplaced, no home for the homeless and I'm tired of running yes I'm tired of running have mercy won't you take me home take me home

I got a job
then I got a another I've swept your streets I've walked your gutter

no minimum wage, no insurance I'm the one you never see the one you never notice
