"Compass"

Only today inside your compass needle has stood still Only today my eyes are open widely
A forest house covered in the shadows,
it can't be seen if you got no feathers
A forest house covered with the golden leaves

Only because your smiling face, I can feel safe here Morning is bringing colored lights all over
A forest house covered in the shadows,
it can't be seen if you got no feathers
A forest house covered with the golden leaves

Days go by in lonely rooms, we can hide ourselves
inside them
Winter gloves and navy coats, tattered books and nothing more
Days go by in lonely rooms, we can hide ourselves
sleeping by the fire

Voices are loud inside our hearts, but they are so quite in ears
Nothing can make our little boat float further
A forest house covered in the shadows,
it can't be seen if you got no feathers
A forest house covered with the golden leaves

Days go by in lonely rooms, we can hide ourselves
inside them
Winter gloves and navy coats, tattered books and
nothing more
Days go by in lonely rooms, we can hide ourselves
sleeping by the fire
