Move into the sea to find another way home
Walk like pallid silhouette in a final roam

Just say it truly, look after your words
To find another way
Just say it truly, look after your thoughts,
To find another way home

I said go!
Into the deep of the lake!
Into the deep of the merciful feelings

Where silent glow!
My eye is light of the lantern
My heart is stone from the sea

Roses inside your hair, mate
And I've heard you moan
Tulips inside your bed, mate
All along the way home

I said go!
Into the deep of the lake!
Into the deep of the merciful feelings

Where silent glow!
My eye is light of the lantern
My heart is stone from the sea

I said go! mate
I'm a light of a lantern all way home
Light of a lantern all way home
Light of a lantern all way home
