One clear shot or else he gets away
Red sun high in the sky tonight
Look west from London down toward Hollywood
Remember the first days of California
You don't wanna see these guys without their masks on
You don't wanna see these guys without their masks on

Fat rich men love their twelve-years-olds
Deco cuff links and cognac by the glass
Look west from London toward the Emerald City
Remember Minnesota
You don't wanna see these guys without their masks on
You don't wanna see these guys without their masks on
Or their gloves

Sweet spearmint and bitter tangerine
Bedside decked with roses
Look west, looks west, look west and look away
From old familiar faces
You don't wanna see these guys without their masks on
You don't wanna see these guys without their masks on
