"Farewell Song"

Visit "Farewell Song" on MotoLyrics.com

Darling now, I'm gonna leave you one more time
I shall deceive you, the moon is round
And the wolves are howling on hunting ground
My pack is waiting
We will never know why
We were chosen by fate to perform all the rites that turned love into hate
I'll see you grin when I pass you by I'll hear you curse my name
I won't lower my eyes
I won't cover my face

You can call me a liar, try to put me to shame
No, I have no desire to live my life in the shade
You strut like a lion but you're a bird in a cage
You set the rivers on fire but you got burned by the flames

Forever now, I'm gonna lose you
These arms of mine could never soothe you
