The port is full three knots pushes on
A light signifies the channel
On a night so still
You keep me in the right direction
We can't drift to far away
Three knots pushes on
Up north the sea swells
The clear sky now turns grey
You keep me in the right direction
We can't drift to far away
This path, it's unavoidable
Any faster and we'd crash
Time dictates our progression
Even if i think it's speed
A time for everything
A time for everyone
Just not me
