Remember, the gipsy never gets lonely

Remember, the gipsy never gets lonely

He spends his nights doing what

They pay him well to do

He don't talk too much

Won't waste no words on you

He's the meanest cowboy in this town

And there ain't no Susy 'round

To nail him down

In some back room

He lays his cards on the table

Whatever job he does

They know he is able

He's a roving rogue

Moving from place to place

You don't stand a chance

To see a smile upon his face

He wouldn't give no one

The time of day

When the job is done

Just collects his pay

Whenever you might

Meet up with this stranger

Better move along

His name spells danger
