You're the master we are tools

We follow your star we are the ship of fools

How can you ask whether I still love you you know there will be no answer as we know that I do

Some mistakes one never wants to learn from and he can't didn't you listen didn't you care don't you understand

I've got a song for the fools

for all the imbeciles

You're the master we are tools

We follow your star we are the ship of fools

I didn't fall in love it was love that fell on me

It just happened you just happened hard and suddenly

Some mistakes one never wants to learn from and he can't

didn't you listen didn't you care don't you understand

for all imbeciles

You're the master we are tools

We follow your star we are the ship of fools
