We knew the signs, despite our fights
I never said it was retrospect infected vertigo

Ripping at my limbs
Scratching out my eyes
I never said it was a lullaby, goodbye

I sold my soul and kept despise
I never said it was a lullaby
You can keep my limbs,
Destroy my eyes
I never said we were a lullaby

When my blood stops, will you venture or surrender?
When my blood drops, will you censor or surrender?

We knew the signs, despite our fights
I never said it was retrospect infected vertigo

You lost your way and murdered mine
And I'll draw blood till I'm bled dry
You can keep my limbs, destroy my eyes
I never, you never said

(Sold my soul and kept despise, I never said it was a lullaby)

When my blood stops, will you venture or surrender?
When my blood drops, will you censor or surrender?
