"Without You"

Visit "Without You" on MotoLyrics.com

You and I,
the story of my goddamn life I cant describe the feelings I was meant to hide away from you but I spoke too soon and I cant help and I cant get away from you

Its such a shame
I think about you every day and that's still the same I think I might just run away without you now let it all resound let it all hang out but I wont leave this goddam town

life is passing by and I'd hate to think I didn't do it right it's puzzling to think of all the things to do but you're the most important thing to me
