My eyes they never sleep
My eyes they torture me and my heart it falls so fast, but it looks back, it looks back
My knees are getting weaker, each passing day, each passing day
With each word of disapproval my backbone falters

Chorus:

Could this be my ticket out of here
Could this be the one i'm dreaming of
Could this be redemption soon
I need redemption soon

Believe me when I say
I'm trying to make it just like you Could you show some grace and fall back into my spell
Into my hell
Into my hell

Could this be my ticket out of here
Could this be the one i'm dreaming of
Could this be redemption soon
I need redemption soon

You don't even know where I come from anymore
It used to be so easy
Your provision doesn't even fall on my land anymore
Conversation weakens in your eyes

Could this be my ticket out of here
Could this be the one i'm dreaming of
Could this be my ticket out of here
Could this be the one i'm dreaming of
Could this be redemption soon
Redemption soon, redemption soon
