Dreamers stop here in hopes they'll get a chance of a lifetime ago
But I will not wait there Drifters stop here and think the way they lived life with no plans My decision is drawing near

Please lover find me
Though the seasons break us up

Branches break here in denial of what they once held up The crisp air cuts my heart Breathe it in they say, live the life and as the snow falls you no longer see The light of who you could be

Please lover find me
Though the seasons break us up
Please lover remind me
That in the hand of the sea its you and me

All the flowers slowly fade
All the leaves that long to change even in december i'll still be calling out

Please lover remind me
