They're building hate today
I see it in the eyes of every passing gaze
They're calling your name today, you've won Congratulations
Say what you're suppose to say be safe, make everyone feel comfortable

Call me out and let me breathe again
Call me out and let me see again

Breathe into me the air you say you're not polluting and flatter me, tell me I am beautiful That i'm the only one you care for Make me believe that all your good intentions will offset all the wrong you've done Still i'll be screaming

Call me out and let me breathe again
Call me out and let me see again

You don't know all the wrong you've done but we're still standing
We will cast our votes and not be afraid
We will not fall
Won't you call us out, giving us freedom again
Won't you call us out, giving us freedom again
