"Your World Of Lies"

Visit "Your World Of Lies" on MotoLyrics.com

Stuck in your world of make believe, it is you who fails
You seek guidance from all the wrong places
You let the words on a page dictate your life
You are so blinded by these lies that you never take the time to figure out who you truly are
I will never be one of those misguided fools
His blood was shed?
Supposedly for the sake of mankind
It's time to open your ears to the truth
His blood was shed? [x2]
It's nothing but a fairy tale
Some ink on a page, some ink on a page
I know the truth
So close that book, so close that book
Never again
Get caught in the story
Never again
I will never be one of those misguided fools
But your world of lies is your home
We are on our own
I make my own choice
No one is taking credit for my story
The masses are blind
Blinded by faith, leading them on
No one controls my destiny
No one, no one but me
I know the truth, we are on our own
