Pimps The
"Rocket Science"

In this dime-a-dozen world
With you they must've broke the mold Cause you're the only one I've met that I would kill to call my own.
Let it be known, I'm not aggressive nor possessive
All I know is, I would kill to make you mine and I am usually not this bold
Let it be known, let it be known...
Let it be known, let it be known...

I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything at all
Anybody's anything at all
Anybody's anything at all

I'm rather small and all my shortcomings stand tall I've crawled upon my hands & knees out of the fear that I could fall and through it all it's left me withered, feeling bitter, bought and sold, been told I'm not the nicest person that you'll ever get to know
Let it be known, let it be known...
Let it be known, let it be known...

I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything at all
Anybody's anything at all
Anybody's anything at all
No, anybody's anything at all
Anybody's anything at all

Weaving through this dust
I trust nobody else but us
I must admit it'd take some years for me to walk without this crutch
So on and such, I'd still be fucked

If I am forced to walk alone
And should I crumble at your feet
I'll hold us both accountable
Let it be known, let it be known...
Let it be known, let it be known...

I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything and
I never wanted to be anybody's anything at all
Anybody's anything at all
Anybody's anything at all, at all
Anybody's anything at all
No, anybody's anything at all
