Looking back, sometimes I wondered

Who held the key to your hearts

Now I know, through places I travelled

Our love's unraveled a chart...

In my life I've waited...

For a chance to really make it...

Something written into my stars.

Past lives that I've lived only lead up to a gift

Of speaking out my thoughts in my songs.

CHORUS

I only want to love you

I only want to care

I'd like a friend to talk to

My feelings are to share my life with someone.

I hope it's you and that you'll care

Our imagination is a secret of creation

Given to us right at the start, and our destination is reaching for salvation.

From the city streets we've outgrown.

CHORUS

I only want to love you

So will you play this song again...
