Hold, hold me down, make me wish, make me wish for air

Call out your name, slowly drain the hate out of me

You're all the same, half inane, lack of brains.

Too much time I'm on my own again

Too much thought to ever see again

Too much sense to ever hear again

Too much hate to see a different end

Too much fear to concentrate again

Too much love to ever feel again

Ugly fears, Ugly face

Ugly thoughts, Leave no trace

Of innocence

The world inside breaking down

The world inside breaking down

Murder all these feelings trapped inside

Murder all these feelings trapped inside

reject everything reject everything

reject everything reject everything

reject everything reject everything

reject everything reject everything

Too much time I'm on my own again

Too much hate to see a different end

Too much fear to concentrate again

Too much love to ever feel again

Ugly fears, Ugly face

Ugly thoughts, Leave no trace

Of innocence

Holding on to words that let go softly

As you whisper into my ears only

Drowning in a pool of all of the tears

Nights and days they seem to drag on

All around you sense the sound

You don't even listen any more
