Close your eyes, dance on the edge of a dream
Close your eyes and think of all you've been Never mind, the distraction on the side
The vision died realize your fate in your hands Separate don't think, just move disintegrate on a groove
Long nights you'll find no saints
Dead and buried or thrown away
No time for life just a sight no time to hide
You gotta run and hide

Disconnected nightmare waking from your dream
With the kiss of hell running down the street in flames
Disconnected nightmare waking from your dream
With the kiss from hell screaming down the street in flames

I sold my soul for you so I could get away from you
I sold my life for you so I could crawl and hide from you
I sold my soul for you, so I could get away from you
I sold my life for you so I could run and hide from you

Close your eyes, dance on the edge of a dream
Close your eyes, dance on the edge of this dream

The future died when you screamed when you bleed
When you cry you will run you'll fall
And break over and over again in this

Disconnected nightmare waking from your dream
With the kiss of hell running down the street in flames
Disconnected nightmare waking from your dream
With the kiss from hell screaming down the street in flames

I sold my soul for you so I could get away from you
I sold my life for you so I could crawl and hide from you
I sold my soul for you, so I could get away from you
I sold my life for you so I could run and hide from you

Close your eyes, dance on the edge of a dream

The future died when you screamed when you bleed
When you cry yet you will run and you'll fall
And break over and over again in this
Disconnected nightmare Waking from your dream
With the kiss of hell running down the street in flames
Disconnected nightmare waking from your dream
With the kiss from hell screaming down the street in flames
