Plug in. Plug in to the machine
Save us a line. Don't even blast us
Don't reprise the mind. Blast the sin
Free from the self, time even laughs tonight
Am I on your mind, or don't you even care ?
Plug in to the machine, plug in to the machine
You really loved your loved once
Concerned for that well being
But I took a try, to those who could save me
And no, I can't deny, it's a sexual pressures twist
To precious to ignore, so less in a paycheck
And I can be sure I'll stand away

Save me
Save me
Save me
Save me

What if the dementia won't stop
And resistance all is done ?
I'll wind up the turnkey and set it on stage
And wait until there's love, so if desire has changed
Plug in. Don't stand by yourself, because I can't just say

I am meant to be your last dance

I made it through your last touch
I made it through your last touch
I made it through your last touch

I'm living through your last touch
I'm living through your last touch

I've got time
