How can I reach what is beyond?
When there is no link between here and there?
Where there is this one chance to get this right
You cannot simple deny how love affects you
Just hope and wish that this is how it is
So that there will no longer be loneliness

Reach me here
So you can fly away to where your heart lies
Finding yourself within this vast world
Soar away and loving life
It's the one and only life
Live it to the fullest and embrace your dreams

Looking past the looking glass, I see everything
Nothing is hidden from me
My eyes can see it all
Now that I am here, let's get going
To a place that is both far and near
We will light up the night sky and be free
From all the tyranny and disgrace
Moving over
Don't forget the times we shared
For it is everlasting

Reach me here
So you can fly away to where your heart lies
Finding yourself within this vast world
Soar away and loving life
It's the one and only life
Live it to the fullest and embrace your dreams

Reach your hand out
And take from me this gift to you
I would give for you
So we can reach the stars in the night sky
Link these two worlds together
Our hearts become one
Our dreams become realized
I would live for you
I would love you

I would die for you
So let's go

Reach me here
So you can fly away to where your heart lies
Finding yourself within this vast world
Soar away and loving life
It's the one and only life
Live it to the fullest and embrace your dreams
