NRNW (NOTHING RIGHT NOTHING WRONG)

Everything keeps spinning

Around in my head

Not thinking about if I hurt you

But what I had said.

Things started to change

My mind was re arranged

Everything was normal it was me who was strange.

(pre chorus)

I started to run

I started to fall.

I started slamming my self

Up against the wall.

I'm sorry I'm such an asshole,

I didn't mean to hurt you

I guess that my life had just lost all its virtue

Nothing was going my way after all.

(chorus)

I didn't mean to leave you standing in the street

I didn't mean to leave you there with your heart lying at your feet.

I didn't ever mean to make you wait so long,

Nothing was turning out right and nothing was turning out wrong.

I knew that I was wrong,

I knew it all along.

If I could just have said it,
you know I knew I didn't belong.

It wasn't what I had planned,

you have to understand,

my feet were on the ground but your heart was in my hands.

(pre-chorus)

(chorus
