So Confusing

I wake up feeling the same way again
another day to waste being lost in nowhere.

Can I be all that's been planned out for me or have I lost all motivation?

I try so hard all the time
to find out what to do with this life
but the answers are never clear.

Chorus: I'm so far away from comprehension.

Drowning beneath my apprehension.

I know this life has purpose it's so confusing.

I gotta find my answers now.

I wake up feeling the same way again -
another thought to break me any way it can.

I can be all that you've planned out for me,
but can I do it for myself?

I try so hard all the time,
to find out what to do with this life,
but the answers are never clear.

Chorus: I'm so far away from comprehension.

Drowning beneath my apprehension.

I know this life has purpose - it's so confusing.

I gotta find my answers now
