"Easy To Be Me"

woke up this morning a real mess covered in lipstick and wearing a dress it's getting hard to be myself so much easier to be someone else

that's when you came along singing a different song
making it easy
to be me

i got so sad when you went away i miss the secret little games we played i'd be your barbie you'd be my ken i'd give my eyes just to see you again

to be me

i thought the world was my enemy i was a slave to my identity they hurt me bad cause they don't understand they made me cry and my mascara ran

making it easy
to be me
