Send in the builders of the bridge it's time to tear their tressles down did you pay them all handsomely? yes, we paid them what they're worth. now i'm not one to socialize with those among the working class could you tell them what i've said to you? i can't show my face around here.

let it all burn
drawl the curtains down
let it all burn
drawl the curtains now

does your father know the state we're in? that if he dies, i will be king it's happening so fast i could use a glass of water i've never had to use a gun i've never had to do too much locked away in towers away from all your dirt

let it all burn
let it all burn
drawl the curtains
