massachusetts
it's the place where i was born in a mill town
in the middle of a storm
in the statosphere
there's a little ball of light it comes down into the earth when condistions are just right i was laying in the giant tiled brim i was arching out

to the sockets on the wall while recharging
we all began to spin
did i mention that this room was very cold and very big?

in california
there's a building
twice the size as this
and inside there is a lazer that fires for a billionth of a second with an output that equals all the country's generators if we turn them all at once and what it's going
is reinacting
on a smaller scale
what's taking place every second of every year
up on the sun
or any star
or in massachusetts
massachusetts
massachusetts
massachusetts
