wood it burns and paper blows i don't know everything you know with things as strong as super glue i could help you truly true counting off in pairs of threes times that sent us to our knees and everything we've said in pleas squished between parenthesis would you move with me?

truly truly truly true

winter snow turns into water then to steam when it gets warmer wind attempts to blow a secret hesitates decides to keep it

would you move with me?
