It's alright. No need for you to fight.

Nothing's after you tonight.

It's all clear. No need to fear.

Nothing's under the bed tonight.

If I pretend that I'm asleep, will that prevent

from making me, their next meal?

It's alright. No need for you to fight.

You've only lost your sense of sight.

Rest your head. And dream yourself to bed.

Or else I won't sleep well tonight.

If I pretend that I'm asleep, will that prevent

from making me, their next meal?

(8 legs are 6 too many to be roaming the hills)

If I hold out 'till the light of day will the disintegrate away
