"Sleep Machine"

Some things melt away. As night dissolves to day.

And some things only stay.

The silent darkness only kills me.

ooh...

I turn to you and stir your blank expression.

You're the one for me. Help me get to sleep.

(nighty night, goodnight)

But something isn't right. It seems that everynight

I need you.

More and more, you take me away

More and more, I need you to stay

More and more, distract me from the instant loss of light

More and more, I need you tonight

Come, let's go for awhile and pretend,

you're mine for awhile, come, let's go

More and more
