screaming kamasutra at the brothel we walk alone because we walk the line never should repeat a rattled message deprived us of the rights to exercise dig too deep and you'll be digging your own grave like me. Cause caution fell asleep at the wheel write your own prayer screaming bloody murder for attention we're always hoping and it's times like this where one by one we'd walk into the ocean and drown ourselves with no remorse for one last kiss starborn princess drunken bond with life Vegas road by night and lack of luck neck versus axe cardboard versus fire I swear we'll shake it off. someone make it better someone make it a ok someone make it easy someone make it go away someone take the reigns now I don't wanna die alone someone take the keys now so I'll make it home
