[Chorus]

all the seeds of Abraham stepping into the jam pump your fist and enlist with the Great I Am we came to rock these hands up high and defy some gravity we casually infiltrating your high fi seeds of Abraham up in the jam pump your fist like you can't resist the program while we rock these hands up high and defy some gravity we casually infiltrating your high fi

[Verse 1]

we infiltrating casually causing some casualty it had to be a principality trying to battle me it rattled me not I got too much soul plus control of this Mic device I'm leaving sliced from the Spirit within That sin ain't never crossed it lost back in the day While it's testing I'm blessing the word play Stay tight like lasso Pablo Picasso Bringing art thru a poem canvas metronome
My home page is locked up in a spiral
I rival with words of enemies from Most High We try to lock up destiny on top of this microphone Waiting till the day my crew blows up like firestone On an SUV cause when I bless you'll be Inside a state of shock cause how I rock the SMPTE With tones for time codes and modes on full force I'm living narrowly righteousness the course

[Chorus]

[Verse 2]

They wanted truth dropped in the booth they wanted proof
That the resurrected risen Son is busy giving one, two, threes
When I'm checking degrees my mic burn
It was red hot after it got to my turn Watch the world turn never concerned with what it offer me
Watch it confound the wise so they could scoff at me

Their righteousness for self tells me they're wack Plus they jack four minutes I ain't never getting back Yet the fact remains I'm busy smacking names And taking aim at a market that's black, jargon attack
The white sheets I fight beats bare knuckling chuckling
At all it's weakness, speak this poem So heads could freely roam like a cellular phone I've known
Many a man doing wrong in a song so the gong rings Sings vibrato in staccato, till exit stage left is their unofficial motto

[Chorus]
