A beautiful morning
Light through the windows
Pictures are empty
And so am I
Something is different
This is not like you
A beautiful treason... changing your mind

Oh carousel eyes
There is no end to your innocence
I hold you inside
Believing in love from a distance

I know you by heart
I know you by heart

We were children
Lives in the balance
No one else mattered
Blue prints 4 love
2 roads taken, wasted alliance
One true believer... alone

Oh can we give back
So much is taken for granted
How can we survive
Believing in love from a distance

I know you by heart
I know you by heart

I know you by heart
I know you by heart
