I think she's losing her mind, I think she's losing her
mind

I think she's losing her mind, I think she's losing her
mind

Well she's drunk all the time
Swallows pills all night
And then she tells me that she's already dead
Never leaves the house until the moon comes out
She fights the voices inside her head

Oh yeah, I think she's losing her mind
It had to go some time
She says she's just fine
Oh yeah, I think she's losing her mind
It had to go some time
She says she's just fine
Insanity, insanity

Well dreams we used to have
Now just make her sad
The days keep rolling but our lives never change, no
Knives and razor blades, keep them locked away
She tries to hurt herself to kill the pain
Oh yeah, I think she's losing her mind
It had to go some time
She says she's just fine
Oh yeah, I think she's losing her mind
It had to go some time
She says she's just fine
Insanity, insanity

Go, I know, it seems a lot to ask
I'd like my own life back
Before the door is closed on me
Dreaming used to be so free
Now our lives are laid in waste
Pain pulls me 'neath
The pace of life is going so slow

I think she's losing her mind, I think she's losing her

mind
I think she's losing her mind, I think she's losing her
mind
I think she's losing her mind, I think she's losing her
mind
I think she's losing her mind, I think she's losing her
mind
Oh yeah, I think she's losing her mind
It had to go some time
She says she's just fine
Oh yeah, I think she's losing her mind
It had to go some time
She says she's just fine
Insanity, insanity

I think she's losing her mind, I think she's losing her
mind
mind
