Never know what it's like to sleep alone at night.
Everytime I wake up, life gets further from my tough.
I know just what it means when you hide inside your dreams.
Can't you just let me be to my perfect eternity?

She was perfect from the front to back
If you couldn't tell from a photograph
She's what it means to be everything/

I am a walking bottle of ecstasy
I'm living in my own fantasy
Yea where I'm master of everything

Real life, I ignore from my silly dreams
But they're more real than the life I've seen
Yea where you're never called dirty ugly.

All my short comings scare me to hell
They chase me right back into my shell
Yea to a place where they miss me.

Oh I can't take another day in this place.
Oh I can't stand another day without your face.

Do you have the time and oh by the way
Hey are you free to go out today?
Oh nevermind well I'll see you later

Go home, submit to whatever grabs me first
As I contimplate my own universe.
If I can't have her then I will hate her.

It's just such a shame that to kill the pain
You have to make it with half a brain.
But they're so dumb that they'll never notice.

All the happy people will now agree you're special when they see you on TV
And all the time how they knew it.
