I went to see my baby
I pleaded and I begged
But then she stood and told me
And this is what she said...

You can't rock, you can't roll
Too square, too ol'
Just better find yourself another gal
So, I went on my way and walked all the way back home
I was so upset I had to use the phone
And when she said to me
It's no good for us, you see
I just rocked my blues away all night long
I just rocked my blues away all night long
You can't rock, you can't roll
Too square, too ol'
Just better find yourself another gal
(Let's rock!)

Well, I saw my baby in town the other day
She looked at me and turned the other way
And when I called her name
She said, sorry, you're still the same
Just rock your blues away all night long
So, I rocked my blues away all night long
You can't rock, you can't roll
Too square, too ol'
Just better find yourself another gal
(Let's rock again now!)

My baby's got a new guy, yes she has
Looked pretty cool when I walked passed him in class
My baby just let me see
That she ain't going out with me
I just rocked my blues away all night long
So, I just rocked my blues away all night long
You can't rock, you can't roll
Too square, too ol'
Just better find yourself another gal
(Let's rock again now!)

You can't rock, you can't roll
Too square, too low
Just better find yourself another gal
You can't rock, you can't roll
Too square, too low
Just better find yourself another gal
