Life will be different when the doomsday is here
The button is pushed and the missiles are near Innocence suddenly replaced with fear
So soon it won't matter about church or career
Cause all that we be left are the roaches and dust
This is the thanks for misplacing your trust

No one survives at the bomb drop
We're heading for global destruction
No one survives at the bomb drop
Because of the world's corporation

The children you love will soon disappear
Some way to grow up living in fear
Things getting worse day by fking day
Nothing is left but to be blown away
Starving for food you will eat your own hand
Thank all the leader you put in command

No one survives at the bomb drop
We're heading for global destruction
No one survives at the bomb drop
Because of the world's corporation

Rubble and debris, once a city stood here
I saw it coming for all these years
We choose to ignore it and focus on sh*t
Well the greatest crime of all has just been commit
Now there's nothing left that you can do
Blown apart to bits will be you
Say goodbye to family that's all I can say
Kiss your ass goodbye it's you last fking day
(TERROR, HORROR, BLOODSHED, WAR)

No one survives at the bomb drop
We're heading for global destruction
No one survives at the bomb drop
Because of the world's corruption
